OBJECT AND PRIVILEGES OF THE SOCIETY

The Society is a non-profit organization. Its object is to promote and encourage Horticulture and to create a love for, and interest in Plants and Flowers. It desires to increase its membership in order to extend its services to a greater number of persons, increase its influence and enlarge the scope of its activities.

PRIVILEGES OF MEMBERSHIP

1. "Horticulture"—a semi-monthly gardening magazine for the amateur gardener.
2. Consultant in Horticulture.
3. Field Secretary.
4. Lectures.
5. Exhibitions presented by the Society.
6. The Philadelphia Flower Show—one admission.
7. Garden Visits.
8. Horticultural Library—circulating privilege to members.
9. Year Book—including committee reports, articles and list of members.

Membership implies a forward-looking interest in the influence of horticulture on the individual, the home, the community, the state and the nation, making life happier and richer.

LORD ABERCONWAY AND MR. C. FREDERICK C. STOUT

Lord Aberconway, president of the Royal Horticultural Society, was the special guest of the Society at the Philadelphia Flower Show in March, and made an address at the annual dinner on March 9, 1937.

FOREWORD

Your Society undertook some new projects in 1937 which were in the nature of an experiment. In order to continue most of them for the current year, it is necessary to curtail somewhat a few of the established activities—among them the Year Book.

The Finance Committee is of the opinion that a complete record of the Society's work should be published each year but that it could be printed in simpler form than heretofore and that extraneous material could be eliminated. Their decision explains the small book this year.

If in future additional income justifies increased expenditures for a more pretentious Year Book and if a number of members prefer the fuller type of publication, we shall be glad to reinstate it; but under the present circumstances we hope that you will agree with the officers that the condensed publication is adequate.

JOHN C. WISTER,
Secretary.

ANNUAL MEETING

NOVEMBER 17, 1937

One hundred and sixty-six members attended the Annual Meeting which was held on Wednesday, November 17, 1937, at 8 P. M., at 1600 Arch Street, Philadelphia. The president, Mr. C. Frederick C. Stout, was in the chair. Announcement was made of the re-election of the following members to serve on the Executive Council for the next three years: Mrs. Thomas Newhall, Mrs. Arthur H. Scott, Mr. Jay V. Hare, Mr. Alex. MacLeod, Dr. J. Horace McFarland, Mr. Thomas W. Sears, and Professor E. I. Wilde.

The president made his report for the year. The secretary, Mr. John C. Wister, called attention to several horticultural events that will take place during the coming winter in the Philadelphia area.

The principal event of the evening was a beautifully illustrated lecture on the Gardens of Spain and Majorca by Mr. Jay V. Hare, a member of the Executive Council of the Society and chairman of its Exhibition Committee.

THE REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

NOVEMBER 17, 1937

It is encouraging to report that we have had a healthy gain in membership during the past year. The Society now numbers 3,432 members as compared with 3,258 a year ago, making a net gain of 174 members. It is disappointing that only ten of these are life members and, during the next year, we hope that our members will assist us in increasing our endowment fund by paying special attention to the following classes of membership: Life Member, Fifty Dollars; Sustaining Member, One Thousand Dollars; Benefactor, Five Thousand Dollars; Patron, Ten Thousand Dollars. There are many worthwhile things we should like to do if we could just see our way clear to finance them.

There is no better way to increase our membership than the one which I have suggested so many times in the past,—to have our members sufficiently impressed with the real value of the Society that each of them will be inspired to secure at least one additional member. If we could increase our membership to 5,000, it would give us extra income to finance and enlarge our program.

The income for the fiscal year, which ended the 30th of September, is almost the same as for the preceding year, approximately $24,000 from all sources of revenue. During the depression we lost about eight to ten thousand dollars in income from the Schaffer Fund, Life Membership investments and dues. Since then our sources of revenue have not changed greatly but the requirements of the various standing committees have increased. Therefore, at the beginning of the fiscal year it becomes the difficult task of the Finance Committee to pare down the amounts asked for to keep them in line with the anticipated income.

The budget in its final form for the past year covered the regular program of activities as follows: lectures, flower shows, garden visits, garden awards, subscriptions to HORTICULTURE, library, consultation department and the fixed overhead expenses,—rent, salaries, etc. I am happy to report to you that the committees kept their expenses within the budget so that there is no deficit from these departments.

I am not going to review these established activities even briefly, but shall refer you to the published reports by the chairmen of the committees in charge. I hope you will all read these reports and that you will encourage the committees by your interest in their work. If you have suggestions for future programs, or criticisms of past work, the chairmen will be pleased to hear from you. They want your assistance in planning the Society's activities, and your active co-operation will be both stimulating and valuable.

At this time I should like, however, to call to your attention two new fields of endeavor which have been undertaken outside of the budget this year. The first, to which practically no expense has been attached so far, is the inauguration of a closer relationship with the Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation of Swarthmore College. The initial step in this co-operation took place last Spring, after considerable planning had been done by a joint committee composed of representatives from our Executive Council and from the Executive Board of Swarthmore College. This step was in the form of six special afternoons when members of the Society were invited to visit the collections of flowering plants on the Swarthmore College Campus and, on the ground, get information from representatives of the Society who were in attendance for the purpose. It will be seen that the essential difference between this program and the regularly established garden visits consists in the fact that these other Saturday garden visits (which we fully intend to continue) are for the purpose of enjoying the beautiful picture of flowering plants on lovely private estates. At Swarthmore, while there is much of beauty to be seen, the emphasis is placed on the practical horticultural instruction which may be received in answer to questions put to the Society's representatives. Information is available concerning the names of the different plants and the country of their origin, the method of planting them and nurseries or florists where they may be purchased, the approximate type of soil that they need and any special summer watering or winter protection, and protection from pests. By this method of answering direct questions, it is believed that Mr. Scott's dream of a place where people could bring their gardening problems is going to become an actual fact. Unfortunately, the weather was not propitious for the 1937 visits, and rain on almost every one of the six appointed days interfered with the complete success of the program. We hope, however, that the members will find this service so valuable next year that they will be anxious to have it continued.

In developing this plan we have in mind that this is a valuable contribution to our ideal of the Society becoming a Garden Center. Our headquarters, with the splendid library, a garden consultation department, a meeting room for committees, and other horticultural facilities, have gradually developed into an important city center of gardening interest; and if, in addition, our members will take advantage of the opportunity offered for practical outdoor horticultural instruction by the Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation, we feel that even the most exacting gardener can find all the help and inspiration he could possibly desire through his membership in the Society.

The next innovation introduced this year was the branching out of the Extension Committee in its endeavor to have the Society spread its influence into more distant parts of the State, instead of concentrating its activities in the Philadelphia area. This plan included two distinct moves. The first was the employment of a Field Secretary in the person of Miss Anne B. Wertsner, formerly head of the Floriculture Department of the School of Horticulture for Women at Ambler. Miss Wertsner has done excellent work this year in giving authoritative information to garden clubs and other groups all over the State, in helping with our flower shows and other activities, and in representing and speaking for the Society at important horticultural gatherings. Although we haven't gained as many new members as we had hoped we would with this new departure, we feel that the horticultural work that has been accomplished is most satisfactory and worthwhile, and that we shall be justified in continuing this activity. It imposes an extra tax on the budget, but it is the opinion of the Executive Council that the results justify the additional expense.

The second move by the Extension Committee was the publication of the quarterly magazine PENNSYLVANIA GARDENS. Dr. McFarland, Chairman, and the members of his committee felt strongly that such a publication was a necessary adjunct to the extension work which they were trying to develop, and that it would greatly strengthen Miss Wertsner's appeal for members throughout the State by giving her something tangible to offer prospective members who were at too great a distance from Philadelphia to enjoy many of the other privileges of membership. The funds provided for the budget were not sufficient to cover either of these new enterprises (the Field Secretary and the magazine) but the Executive Council felt that it was only fair to give these new projects a trial and to borrow money to finance them for a year to see if the hoped-for increased membership would bring in enough additional revenue to carry them in the future. However, in the year's trial, the magazine, although it has been a delightful addition to the privileges to our existing membership, has not accomplished its original purpose,—to bring in new members.

Therefore, with great reluctance, I have to announce that, owing to lack of funds, the publication of PENNSYLVANIA GARDENS will have to be eliminated from our budget for 1938 and, unless the means is furnished by some unforeseen person or persons, it will have to be permanently discontinued.

We owe a debt of gratitude to Dr. McFarland for his valuable work in editing the magazine, which he has done entirely without reimbursement of any kind, and which he is willing to continue without financial reward.

The Council of the Society, in considering the budget for the coming year, gave very serious consideration to the problem that was created by the issuance of this pocket magazine, but did not feel that we could continue to spend money beyond our estimated income.

I want to thank all of our members, and those of you who are here particularly, for your support and interest, and I know that you all join me in thanking the chairmen and the committee members who have given so freely of their time and knowledge in building our Society into an organization of which we can well be proud.

C. FREDERICK C. STOUT,
President.

REPORT OF THE EXHIBITION COMMITTEE FOR 1937

Philadelphia opened the Flower Show Season of 1937 with the great Spring Show held in the Commercial Museum from March 8th to 14th, inclusive. The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society was ably represented by a special committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. Page Allinson, and an efficient group of garden experts. This committee arranged an attractive schedule of classes of exhibits and superintended the staging and judging of the division of the Show sponsored by the Society. Changes in exhibits and arrangements were made from day to day to hold the interest and enthusiasm of the great throngs of garden admirers who indicate a greater delight each year in this particular section of the Spring Show.

Through the courtesy of the officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the 1937 Dahlia and Fall Flower Show was again staged in the Thirtieth Street Station in Philadelphia. This magnificent building, with its huge concourses, is admirably suited to an exhibition of this character. With the splendid parking facilities, ease of access, and the great number of persons who normally pass through this station hourly, the attendance at the Show held September 17 and 18th amply justified the selection of this location. With the co-operation of the Pennsylvania Railroad Garden Club, a very well-balanced show was presented. It is anticipated that another show will be staged in that building in late September, 1938.

Adverse growing conditions retarded the opening of hardy chrysanthemums beyond the normal date in the Philadelphia area in the Fall of 1937. Notwithstanding this condition and the storms which prevailed at the time appointed for the Show, the Hardy Chrysanthemum Show of the Society held at the Swarthmore College grounds on Saturday afternoon, October 23, 1937, was very successful both from the standpoint of exhibits and attendance. This Show was staged by the Society with the co-operation of the Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation. The staging of the Show at Swarthmore College gave visitors an opportunity to view the hardy chrysanthemums under field culture and as selected specimens arranged indoors.

Respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON GARDEN AWARDS FOR 1937

Upon the recommendation of the Committee the following awards were made:

A Silver Medal to Mr. Justice and Mrs. Owen J. Roberts for the good taste and artistic restraint displayed in their treatment of the homestead on their farm, "Bryncoed Farms," located at Kimberton in the rural loveliness of Chester County. An ancient rambling stone dwelling house set amid towering trees, a terrace commanding a charming landscape, a lawn with vine-clad walls, stepping-stone walks and massive hedges, a garden with color of bloom throughout the season, a vision of wonder in apple-blossom time, a scene of lovely beauty in lilac time—these are the elements out of which has been built a country home of charming simplicity.

A Silver Medal to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin R. Hoffman for the skill and good judgment with which they have preserved and even if possible enhanced, the old world charm of their historic estate, "The Grange," of West Overbrook. Dating from the eighteenth century, the place is characterized by magnificent trees, old Wisteria-grown walls, an ancient terraced garden, a house of equal age, and a bit of woodland, threaded with winding walks, on one of which is found "Washington's Seat," a moss-grown stone bench on which tradition says the Father of his Country loved to take his ease.

A Bronze Medal to Mr. and Mrs. Walter I. Cooper, of Haverford, for their lovely garden. One descends stone steps from the terrace at the back of the house into this small intensive garden. Well planned and thought out, it contains many interesting features. A garden lover visiting this garden will be both entertained and instructed.

A Certificate of Merit to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson S. Yerger of 7312 Elbow Lane, Chestnut Hill, and

A Certificate of Merit to Mr. and Mrs. J. Aubrey McCurdy, of 7315 Elbow Lane, Chestnut Hill. Each of these two gardens, close neighbors one to the other, is a perfect example of what can be done in a small yard by enthusiasm, good taste, and loving care. All of these essential qualities to the making of attractive gardens are here exhibited.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM J. SERRILL,

Chairman.

February 4—"The Pioneers of Botanical Study in the Sixteenth Century."

February 11—"The Great Botanists of the Renaissance."

February 18—"The Early Botanical Studies in the New World and the Orient."

The two special subscription courses by David Rust and Dr. Marion Parris Smith were enthusiastically received by their subscribers. Limiting the attendance in these special courses made it possible to have more intimate contact with the speakers and satisfactory results in questions and answers. We very much desire to have a group of earnest young horticulturists to carry on intelligent and timely garden work, free from disappointment and delay in establishing and perfecting their gardens.

FIVE EVENING GARDEN TALKS

January 4—"Tree Diseases"—By Dr. L. O. Overholts.

January 18—"Weeds—Identification and Classification"—By Dr. Fred V. Grau.

February 1—"Wild Flowers"—By Dr. E. T. Wherry.

February 15—"Some Objectives in the Use of Plant Material"—By Professor John R. Bracken.

March 1—Garden Forum conducted by John C. Wister.

The evening garden talks were sponsored by the Philadelphia Branch of the National Association of Gardeners and were arranged primarily for the benefit of professional gardeners but members of the Society also were invited to attend. An enrollment fee of $1.00 was charged.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARY COMMITTEE FOR 1937

In the firm belief that the members of The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society should know certain facts in connection with the Library a statement is here presented.

This Society, founded in 1827, contains 4,450 bound volumes; The Massachusetts Horticultural Society, founded in 1829, contains 24,700 volumes; the Brooklyn Botanic Garden, founded in 1910, contains 19,300 bound volumes; and the New York Botanical Garden, founded in 1898, contains 46,000 bound volumes.

Thus it will be seen that although The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society is an older organization, our Library suffers lamentably in comparison with other important horticultural and botanical libraries. The Massachusetts Horticultural Society adds about 500 bound books a year. We have money to purchase a scant 100, not enough to even keep up-to-date. Thus yearly we are falling behind. Most important the books in our Library form practically the only permanent possession of the Society. They receive the best of care and are bound when necessary. Pennsylvania is a big state, has a wealthy population and contains a great garden-loving public.

Many more of the old herbals are needed in order to have the proper foundation for our library. Other great needs are local botanies from all over the world. These are interesting and valuable to anyone who wishes to travel and to be informed in advance what flora to expect in the area he is to visit.

There are published today some beautiful, illustrated floras, both in books and magazine form that should be in our library. These can be purchased at the reasonably low current prices. Later they will cost more. They cannot be acquired with our present appropriation.

Gifts of $1.00 or more from individuals will be most gratefully received. Gifts of $5.00 and upwards from Garden Clubs will be more than welcome.

All members of Garden Clubs and their friends are welcome to use the library whether they belong to The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society or not.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY G. HENRY,
(Mrs. J. Norman Henry),

Chairman.

GARDEN VISITS, 1937

The Society wishes to express its thanks to the persons who so generously opened their gardens to members in the 1937 season. The opportunity of visiting beautiful gardens has a definite educational value as well as being a very enjoyable privilege. The members were again permitted to invite friends to accompany them on these visits.

The 1937 program included nine visits to private gardens and a total attendance of 4,115 (members and guests) was recorded. The visits were as follows:

- May 1—Mr. and Mrs. C. Frederick C. Stout, Ardmore.
 —Mr. and Mrs. J. Clifford Rosengarten, "Woodleigh," Villa Nova.
 —Mr. and Mrs. Richard Haughton, "Valley Mill Farm," Paoli.
 May 8—Mrs. Samuel P. Rotan, "Lane's End," Chestnut Hill.
 —Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Allen Poe, "Ropsley," Chestnut Hill.
 —Mr. and Mrs. George D. Widener, "Erdenheim Farms," White-marsh Valley, Chestnut Hill.
 May 22—Mr. and Mrs. Charlton Yarnall, "Crum Creek Farm," Devon.
 —Mr. and Mrs. S. Laurence Bodine, "Green Bank Farm," New-town Square.
 —Dr. and Mrs. John H. Gibbon, "Lynfield Farm," Media.

Through a co-operative arrangement with the Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation the members of the Society were also invited to visit the collections of spring flowering plants on the Swarthmore College campus on six afternoons as follows:

- April 22 and 29—Daffodils and Flowering Cherries.
 May 6 and 13—Flowering Apples, Lilacs and Tree Peonies.
 May 20 and 27—Azaleas and Irises.

Representatives of the Society were on hand to answer questions concerning the plants and their culture on these occasions, but rainy weather on most of the afternoons interfered with a large attendance.

CONSULTANT IN HORTICULTURE

During 1937, Mr. David Rust, the Society's Consultant in Horticulture, visited 55 gardens of members, held 107 office consultations, gave gardening advice in 59 letters and in 100 telephone conversations. He lectured before 8 garden clubs and judged 7 flower shows. The principal subjects about which he was consulted during the year, arranged in the order of the frequency of the inquiries, were: Spraying, Perennials, Lawns, Evergreens, Outdoor Roses, Shrubs, Rhododendrons, Pruning, Boxwood, Japanese Beetle, and Bulb Gardens.

Mr. Rust holds office consultation hours each Monday from 10 to 12 in the morning and from 2 to 4 in the afternoon (except at the time of flower shows), and he is available for visits to gardens and for consultation in the office on other weekdays by appointment.

In order to get the best results, Mr. Rust advises members to have their gardens visited twice a year. In this way serious trouble may be checked before it makes much progress. The only expense for Mr. Rust's visits is the actual traveling charge. By inspection of the garden itself, an accurate diagnosis of plant trouble can be made and other helpful information supplied, and Mr. Rust recommends this method where at all possible.

WORK OF THE EXTENSION COMMITTEE FOR 1937

Your Committee has sedulously endeavored to make The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society known throughout the state through two mediums.

Miss Anne B. Wertsner has served as Field Secretary with notable success. She is just finding her footing, and has worked during the year mostly with the organized clubs, leaving for future persistent effort relations to the unorganized groups near Philadelphia and throughout the state who need the work of and contacts with The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society.

During the year Miss Wertsner gave forty-seven talks in three states before various groups of men, women and children upon diversified subjects, most of the lectures being illustrated with lantern-slides or demonstrated with plant material.

Quoting from Miss Wertsner's report to the Committee, it is noted that "seventy-three visits were made in connection with flower shows, private gardens, and to the Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation at Swarthmore. . . . Assistance was given in judging at fourteen flower shows, and sixty-seven names were presented for membership in the Society. There were four hundred and thirty-two requests for horticultural information through consultation in the office, telephone and letters."

It is noted that Miss Wertsner believes further interest can be well promoted through school children, who receive eagerly her presentations, looking toward making them better gardeners.

The Committee has also issued four numbers of PENNSYLVANIA GARDENS, which it was possible to have admitted through the mails at second-class rates. Confined carefully to Pennsylvania material, this well-received publication presented outstanding articles contributed by active members of the Society, among which were Lilaes by John C. Wister, Hemerocallis by Mary G. Henry, Roses in Pennsylvania by J. Horace McFarland, Gordonias by Elizabeth C. White, House Plants by Anne B. Wertsner, Tree Peonies by H. G. Seyler, Daffodils by Mrs. Walter King Sharpe, Wisteria by A. E. Wohlert, Holly by F. R. Furness, and Barberries by John C. Swartley.

It is the feeling of the Extension Committee that the work done during the year was advantageous not only to the Society, as yet very little known throughout the state, but to horticulture in general. If facilities are provided for continuing presentations through Miss Wertsner, through various publications, through an improved relation to the magazine HORTICULTURE, and in various ways, it is believed The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society can become truly a state organization.

This report should be construed as including the report of the Field Secretary, from which quotations have been made.
